The autobiography of Philippe Pons, illegitimate grandson of Ferdinand I, emperor of Austria-Hungary, who, mistaken for Charles Péchoux, was sentenced to a long term of imprisonment in a convict settlement.
"I am contributing nothing of my own to this narrative beyond giving it a slight literary finish and co-ordinating and rearranging certain parts of it so that it may be more intelligible to the reader. In short, my task has been that of a sub-editor of the biography of the ill-starred Péchoux."—Editor's "Introduction".

Poor Robin. An almanack ...

London, Printed for the Company of stationers [1618]

v. 15-17½cm.

Begun 1664, under title: Poor Robin ... An almanack after a new fashion ... The title varies very frequently, but always starts with the words: "Poor Robin ... An almanack," until 1777, when it becomes Old Poor Robin ...
The almanack was originally accompanied by a supplement, bearing separate t.-p., entitled: "A prognostication for the year of Our Lord ..." After 1781 it was united with the almanack, as "Old Poor Sir Robin, the second part."

Poor's ... 1925– (Card 2)

The Public utility and Industrial sections of "Poor's" supersede Moody's manual of railroads and corporation securities, Public utility and Industrial sections, 1919-24. (Poor's publishing company in 1919 took over Moody's manual (begun in 1900) and merged with it Poor's manual of public utilities (issued 1913-18) and Poor's manual of industrials (issued 1910-18) The title Moodys manual was continued on t.p. although from 1921-24 the title Poor's and Moodys manual consolidated was lettered on cover. The publication consisted of the Public utility and Industrial sections only, as the Railroad section of Moodys manual was merged into Poor's manual of railroads in 1919)
